PRIVATE & CUSTOMISED PHOTOGRAPHY TOURS

A NEW MAGAZINE has arrived to the digital channel. It is produced under the LISBON PHOTO brand and the content covers multiple themes.

- General photography & equipment
- Local news about Portugal & other internal locations
- Photography tours & workshops

This magazine has a straight forward purpose, which is to help you plan your next trip to Portugal. The anchor is of course photography, but the whole idea is to help you build a rewarding experience.

This is downtown Lisbon, photographed from one of the best spots available to the public.

A telephoto lens, like the 70-200mm will give you this lovely grid effect.

LISBON PHOTO organizes private and customised photography tours and welcomes everyone with some interest in photography. It doesn't matter what type of camera you have, DSLR or a smartphone, you will take home some stunning photos.

At this moment, we are the best-rated photography tour operator in Lisbon and the reference in Portugal, you will be in good hands.

Our brand new website shows the regular photography tours and workshops, but it is always possible to customise something different for you and your friends or family.

A common mistake is to assume that a photography tour will focus on the photographer only and will totally ignore the companion. Let me tell you that perhaps one of the reasons for the LISBON PHOTO success, is the fact that all the tours include everybody.

Besides adding local history and culture, we may start with one photographer and end with two or three, because everybody has at least a smartphone or a small pocket camera - they will all be involved and have the same fun and interest.

gastronomy, people are friendly and it is a small city, both in area and number of citizens.

It is quite affordable and thanks to the country size, there is plenty to see nearby, making your stay a fulfilling experience. It is time to visit or revisit, planning ahead with a little help from us.

Always a must see and photograph, the yellow trams are a Lisbon postcard.

More demanding is to find new approaches to get unusual, yet very powerful photos.

We will try that if we see one!

We have an extensive list of reviews on Tripadvisor, we have a huge portfolio on Instagram and on Pinterest, so that you can actually see in advance how much we know about the business!

Let's talk about Lisbon city. Without getting too long, it is one of the best city destinations in Europe. It is very safe, with great weather, with the best

THE LX FACTORY is a unique place in Lisbon. It is an old industrial area converted into a very busy and interesting hub. You will see bars and restaurants, shops of all kinds, lots of street art and a decadent architecture that glues it all together. The location is the Alcantara district and you can go there by tram.

The photography potential is huge! One thing that catches your eyes is the amount of street art. You will need time to process all that apparent chaos, but the photos will be fantastic. It is a very good place to go with your friends or family, because while you think about your next photo, they can relax and have a drink.

So your main concern will be to compose simple, yet powerful photos, with the extra challenge of avoiding the crowd. That's why we are in business and LISBON PHOTO will give you a hand. Make it two hands!

Although you can use a mid-range telephoto lens, wide-angle is probably better. It is a very effective way to produce clean images, because you can get rid of all the people and still get the whole set. Should your camera be "big", our advise is to keep a low profile near the entrance - you don't want to be stamped as a pro.

The LX Factory is a magnet to the tourists and to the locals too.

Photography can be quite stylish, from colour to black & white, from wide-angle to detail.

NIGHT PHOTOGRAPHY is also possible in more than one location, so yes, you can also do it in Lisbon.

LISBON PHOTO chose two totally different districts, one displaying old, the other as a modern architecture site. Hard to choose, so if you are a night photography enthusiast, you should do both.

A tripod is absolutely needed, so if you don't have one or you find it hard to travel with, you can count on one piece that you can rent as part of the tour.

The blue hour is probably one of the nicest times of the day to shoot. It is ephemeral, so it is very important to get the lesson well studied before you come.

As expected, LISBON PHOTO will give you some hints, eventually adding a blue hour session to the end of your afternoon tour or at the beginning of your night tour.

Anything is possible, depending on weather and time of the year.

Keep in mind that in some places it's not allowed to shoot with a tripod. You will need the help of experts to optimize your time and your photos. This is one of the purposes of LISBON PHOTO.

We lost count how many times we were kicked out of the famous Oriente train station, we could write an entire magazine about it! Our help will be paramount.

Regarding photo equipment, what should you bring? Well, we can use all (or most) of your lenses, because each lens is a different tool. At LISBON PHOTO we love to face a good challenge and help you see the world from different perspectives.

Lisbon by night will be a delight to your camera. New and modern or old and ancient.

Tripods are always useful, so keep some extra space on your bag.

PORTUGAL is a wonderful country to visit, any time of the year. From country to coastline, from mountain to ocean, you will have the time of your life. It spreads for a small area, making your visit even easier - you will change scenario in almost no time. Gastronomy - including wine - is probably the richest on planet earth, you will go home with some extra kilograms, but also with a big smile!

Lisbon is perhaps at the ideal latitude (38° N), meaning you can expect a mild and comfortable climate all over the year. We don't have any extreme seasons.

UNMISSABLE: Lisbon is the only European capital with a massive river and with the ocean at the door. You won't believe the quality of the beaches that you can find at a 20min drive.

At this time, we are facing a new normal. We are slowly getting our lives back, with so much to do and to show to all the visitors that choose us as their holiday destination.

This is the first of many magazines that will be published. They will help you plan your next trip to Portugal and ultimately, to optimize your photography experience.

Would you like to photograph tiles like these? No problem, we have so many options in Lisbon, you will take home some great graphic photos.

By the way, they are hard to photograph because we should respect the lines.
